

Powder Coated Aluminum

Powder coating is a high-quality and dry finishing process which makes it possible to create a thicker and more streamlined surface than with conventional liquid paint. The coating is applied on the light-weight aluminum in order to reduce the risk of impact from moisture, UV, scratches and corrosion.